

Resources for ELL

Using World Book Online to Support English Language Learners

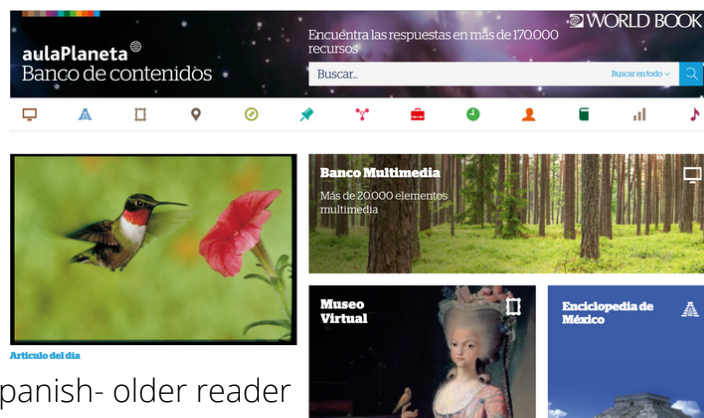

There are many different features throughout World Book products designed to help students who are learning English. Additionally, three of our products are in a different language:

Spanish- young reader

French

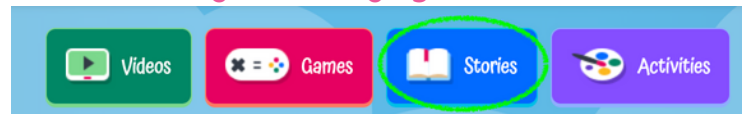

Spanish- older reader

All three of these resources are great for both native speakers and students learning the language. Two of them connect to one of our core products, Kids.

In Early Learning, go to Stories

Click on the N to find books in Spanish (Libros en Español)

Click on the Speaker button to have the article read aloud.

La señora Pitipati sacudió las migajas de los manteles a cuadros rojos y acomodó los asientos.

Tools

Save

Share

Print

Citations

Translate this text

- Benjamin
- Catalan
- Cebuano
- Chichewa
- Chinese (Simplified)
- Chinese (Traditional)
- Corsican
- Croatian
- Czech
- Danish
- Dutch

Read aloud settings

Tips:

Double-click a word to define it

Click on the Gear button in the top right corner of an article to access Tools. All articles can be translated in to over 100 languages. This tool is also available on Student and Advanced.

In August 1805, when they were traveling in the Rocky Shoshone. The chief turned out to be Sacagawea's brc Shoshone people and the explorers talk to one anothe horses from the Shoshone. Many landmarks and mon Sacagawea.

At the bottom of each article in Kids, you can toggle to the same article in Spanish or French if you have access to those products.

Visit Encyclopedia Estudiantil Hallazgos for this article in Spanish.

See L'Encyclopédie Découverte for this article in French.

Click on the Speaker button to have the article read aloud. Students can also double click on a word in the article to define it.

Sacagawea <<sah kah guh WEE uh>> (1787?-1812) was a Native American Shoshone woman who traveled with a group of explorers through the northwestern United

Some of our eBooks also have read-aloud functionality to help a student learn English words. Look for titles with the "Read-aloud" icon.

Try out books like Animal Babies, which has videos of baby animals embedded in it!

Want more ideas on how to use the countless resources on www.worldbookonline.com?

Watch our webinar: Using World Book at Home to learn how to access all of these features and for additional ideas to help support remote learning for families.